Did Not Work Well Under Coffee.

A brain worker's health is often in jured by coffee, badly selected food and sedentary habits. The experience of the managing editor of one of the most prosperous newspapers in the middle west, with Postum Food Coffee, illustrates the necessity of proper feeding for the man who depends on his brain

'Up to three years ago," writes this gentleman, "I was a heavy coffee drink-er. I knew it was injuring me. It di-rectly affected my stomach and I was threatened with chronic dyspepsia. It was then that my wife persuaded me to try Postum Food Coffee. The good results were so marked that I cannot say too much for it. When first predeveloped the fact that cook had not boiled it long enough, so next time 1 had it properly made and was charmed with it. Since that time coffee has had no place on my table save for guests. Both myself and wife are fond of this new cup, which 'cheers but does not inebriate,' in a much truer and fitter sense than coffee. My stomach has resumed its normal functions and I am now well and strong again, mentally

LOSSES WERE ENORMOUS. Correspondent's Account of Liao Yang Battle.

Mukden, Sept. 7 .- (Via Peking, Sept. 9.)-A correspondent of the Associated Fress, who has just returned to Mukden with the Russian rear guard after having accompanied the army the whole time since the battle of Liao Yang, says the losses on both sides were enormous. As a moderate esti-mate, he places them at 50,000. He mate, he places them at 50,000. He confirms the report that the fighting at Liao Yang recalled in fierceness the sanguinary battles of the American civil war. General Kuroki's flank movement east of the Russian position precepitated the retreat from Liao Yang. When the Russians left Liao Yang the town was strewn with corpses of the slain. The Japanese shell fire continued until Sept. 4, when the bridges over the Taitse were destroyed.

What Has Been Done.

San Francisco, Sept. 9.—The announcement that Edward T. Jeffery, president of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, had been appointed director of the Western Pacific Railroad company is accepted as proof that the Goulds are quietly preparing to annex that project to the system of railroads which they control.

Having selected a route for the new line across the Sierras and entered the eastern market for material for the construction of this western extension of their roads, they have now injected to the directorate of the Western Pacific company one of their ablest representatives.

The Western Pacific Railway company was organized to build from Salt Lake to San Francisco and to construct M. A." Accompanying it was this letter:
"Dear Mr. Nelden: Another licorice stick, for remembrance. Faithfully Western Pacific has invested $3,500,000 on its project. It has secured extensive terminals on the harbor of San Francisco and has perfected its entrance to these terminals as well as having acquired terminals in other ties in California.
